To access the online version of this schedule, you can access your FREE membership to the Guest Hollow's Whirlwind World History Curriculum Schedule. Just login with your store username and password by vising this page:
https://guesthollow.com/my-account/

Once you've logged in, you can access your online schedule membership from the "My Account" page by clicking "My Membership."

If you need help because you've lost your password, or you'd like to access your downloads again but don't know how, visit the help page:
https://guesthollow.com/help-section/

Choose the Whirlwind World History membership (if you have more than one membership). Another page will load, and you will need to click on the name of the membership again. Then you will be taken to the Whirlwind World History schedule landing page. From there you can click on the listed weeks to see the schedule pages.

The online schedule is ONLY for your family's use. Please do not share your store login information. Thank you!
Access to this online schedule is not guaranteed and is only provided as a courtesy! Online schedule memberships and access to your downloads expire after 2 years (730 days). A typical school year is 180 days, so that should give you time to plan. We may extend your access at our discretion. If you run into a situation where you need your access extended, send an email to guesthollow@memorableplaces.com, and we'll review your request. 😊 We understand that life/illness/etc. sometimes gets in the way of starting a curriculum! You can renew access before your membership ends with a 50% repurchase discount by visiting your store account page and accessing your private discount(s) via the membership section.
Renewing access will ensure that you have the most up-to-date links, corrections, and additions to the curriculum. Your renewal helps support our efforts to keep our schedules as up to date as possible. If you decide not to renew, you can still click on the schedule links in your downloaded file(s) via a free PDF reader or Microsoft Word. You do NOT need a membership to the online version of the schedule to use the materials you've downloaded to your computer or device.

Make sure you downloaded your purchased copy of this curriculum and saved it to your computer or device.

Once you've downloaded the schedule to your computer or device, you are licensed to use the downloaded copy forever. Make sure you download, save, and back up your items immediately after your purchase! You can click directly on the links in the downloaded schedule from a computer or other device and can use your materials with younger students years later.

Additional downloads (after your initial purchase download) and access to the free online version of the schedule are provided as a courtesy and are not guaranteed due to various potential technical and business (and life!) circumstances. It is our intention to continue to provide access for a period of 2 years from the date of purchase. After the 2-year period, you will have the opportunity to repurchase your printable schedule at a substantial discount.

The online version of the schedule is kept up-to-date and will immediately reflect any changes we make to the schedule whether they are small or major updates. Make sure to keep a copy of your downloaded schedule to always have a copy that matches the books and resources you decide to purchase.

Links in this schedule are clickable if you view the schedule on a computer, compatible phone, or tablet. You can also click directly on links if you use the online version of the schedule.
Links in the schedule are underlined. You can click directly on the links when viewing them via your computer or device using a PDF reader app, the Microsoft Word version of the schedule, or via the online version of the schedule that is accessed by a browser like Chrome, Safari, or Firefox.

We recommend the following FREE PDF readers:
Adobe Acrobat Reader
Foxit Reader
If you are using a tablet, visit your app store for either of these apps (Adobe or Foxit) or another PDF reader of your choice. We've tested our schedules on an iPad using both the Adobe and Foxit readers (and were able to click on links using both apps). We cannot provide tech support if your schedule doesn't work on your device.

Curriculum Check List

- Read our helpful "How to Use and Print Guest Hollow Materials" page: https://guesthollow.com/how-to-use-and-print-guest-hollow-materials/

- Read our blog post: What it looks like to use Guest Hollow in real life…

- Download all your purchased material. You can do so by logging into the Guest Hollow store at this page: https://guesthollow.com/my-account/ and clicking on "Downloads." Sign in with the username assigned to you at the time of your purchase or the email address you used to make your purchase.

  If you don't remember your password, you can reset it (or we can assist you with that). Instructions on how to reset your password are on our help page: https://guesthollow.com/help-section/

- Download and print out the workbook (the answer key is at the back of the workbook). The workbook is in color. We recommend color printing, if possible, due to the maps and other graphics, photos, and illustrations. The workbook was designed to be printed double-sided and hole punched or bound by a method of your choice.

- Download the workbook answer key PDF (with workbook image credits at the end of the file). You don't have to print this file. You can view it on your computer or device to save on printing costs, if you wish!

- Don't forget to back up your downloaded items!

- Look over the supply list for the year (included in this document) to plan which activities you want to do this year and what supplies you will need to purchase or obtain ahead of time.

- Make sure to look over the Whirlwind World History Curriculum Book and Resource List (included in this document) to plan your book purchases and borrows (from a library or other source) and choose the format of the books you plan to use (physical book, e-book, audiobook). Don't forget to check the website for notes/warnings about the books: https://guesthollow.com/whirlwind-world-history-curriculum-book-and-resource-list/. Please note that we have not marked every possible objectionable item in our book notes on the linked page above. Every family is different in what they find offensive! You are responsible for previewing materials to see if they are appropriate for your student(s). 😊

Credits/Subjects

This curriculum covers a lot of different types of information. We think the BEST curriculums are those that are multi-disciplinary. We believe subjects don't exist in a vacuum, so we like to tie different subjects together, when possible, to expand students' understanding of specific topics or things they encounter in various scheduled books and/or videos.

You'll have to check with your local requirements since every state is different.

When we were teaching our kids, we usually had what we thought of as a "core" curriculum (science, geography, or history). Because these programs were so literature rich, we didn't do a separate literature course. This enhanced our children's retention and enjoyment of the material they were learning, since their reading assignments complimented their studies. Of course, our kids also did plenty of reading in their free time as well!

Guest Hollow's Whirlwind World History Curriculum covers a lot of different types of information. We think the BEST curriculums are those that are multidisciplinary. We believe subjects don't exist in a vacuum, so we like to tie different subjects together, when possible, to expand students' understanding of specific topics or things they encounter in various scheduled books and/or videos.

Additional credits could possibly be earned for literature (language arts or English), art, or home economics (cooking).

Don't forget to research your local requirements and consult the local experts in your area! We are in NO way advising what credits you should assign. You are ultimately responsible for researching this topic and deciding what will work for you and your family based on your local requirements, future plans, college requirements, and other considerations.

We are not in any way recommending how you should assign credits. Please research your local requirements and consult the local experts in your area.

Using the Printable Schedule for Recordkeeping

You can use the printable schedule for recordkeeping. Just get a highlighter and highlight the items you've done. Another option is to cross out the things you've done or put a check next to items that are completed. Students can use a printable copy to keep track of their work. Parents can edit the Microsoft Word copy of the schedule to take out or add in assignments as needed.

Videos:

Videos are an important, visual component to this year. Watch as many of them as you can! We used to watch videos like these as a family after dinner or on the weekends, not just during school time. 😊

Sometimes I schedule in quite a few full-length videos in a single week. Consider them a "buffet of options." It's not intended for you to watch all of them. Choose the one(s) your student is most interested in, or whatever you have access to.

TED-Ed – I've scheduled in a variety of videos from TED-Ed. After watching these videos, you have the option of taking a quiz and reading through discussion questions (for some of them). Look for a link in the YouTube video description to access quizzes when they are available. This will give your student some test & quiz practice. You will have to create a free TED-Ed account to access the quizzes.

We've linked to a variety of videos. Sometimes a video will become unavailable. You can search YouTube and see if you can find it again by its title. Please report dead video links to us, so we can update the schedule with a replacement video or video link.

The online "spine" book has a variety of embedded videos to illustrate what is being learned. Those videos are an important part of the curriculum. They should get precedence over the schedule videos.

Occasionally we link to YouTube search results, rather than a specific video. Look in the search results for a matching video title to watch.

We have not been able to preview every minute of every YouTube video in this schedule. We did try to preview almost everything and give warnings for potential concerns, except for the multitude of documentaries by the History Channel and other reputable and well-known documentary producers. We may not have marked every single incidence of things some families may find offensive. Please preview the videos with your family's concerns in mind and/or be on hand when your student views them. If you come across something you think we should note in the schedule, please let us know! You can send an email to: guesthollow@memorableplaces.com.

Links

If you printed this schedule out, you will need to view it on an internet connected computer, tablet, or other device in order to click on the various schedule links. The internet is changing all the time, so a link that is working today may not work tomorrow. Email us at: guesthollow@memorableplaces.com to report a dead link. We'll try to find a replacement!

See what's been updated…

You can check the online schedule landing page to see what changes have been made to the schedule within the last 2-year period. The updates are listed below the table of weeks. The online schedule and the downloadable schedule are always kept up-to-date and in sync with each other. Make sure you download a copy of the schedule right after your purchase, in case major changes are made that may not match the books you've purchased, etc.

How to cull assignments and do a more "bare bones" version of this program or make it fit into YOUR schedule:

It's not expected that you will do everything in this schedule. Think of it as a buffet of activities to choose from. Don't feel overwhelmed. A lot of the reading selections and videos are SHORT, even if it looks like there are a lot in the schedule. If you need to cull assignments, here are some suggestions on how to do so:

Refer to the booklist's ranking system. Books in the list are ranked according to their importance to the program. You can cull books based on the time you have available for this program, interest level, availability, etc. You may wish to cut out some of the literature selections, especially if you aren't assigning reading credits for those books. You may not want to use any of the books listed in the reference section of the schedule. They are there if you want or need more information about a specific time period or if your student needs physical books to supplement the online text.

Use the online "spine" book as a base. Students will learn a lot if they just use this book and watch the videos that are embedded in the text. Add in what you have time for on top of the spine book. You can think of the BASE program as the yellow, orange, green, and blue sections of the schedule. The items below (in the pink and purple sections) are EXTRAS you can add onto the base program. Don't forget that you can download the MS Word version of the schedule and edit it to your heart's content (for your immediate family's use only).

Extras
Extra Resources and Activities

You can substitute shorter library books (or books already on your homeschool shelf) about various topics instead of the ones scheduled. You can cut everything else out other than the spine, some videos, and any activities or books you have time for.

Is your student earning credits for more than just history? Use your goal to help you decide which books, activities, and extras are more important to achieve what you want your student to focus on. Cut out some of the things that don't match your goals/focus. DON'T feel like you must do all the assignments listed in the activities section. There are a lot of links to PDFs and such that are meant to give you options. It's NOT expected that your student will get to all of them or even most of them. 😊 So, relax, choose what your student needs to work on or is interested in, and enjoy yourselves!

There are some DBQ (document based) questions linked in the schedule. Consider these totally optional. DBQs are a feature of the AP History Exam (which this curriculum is NOT geared for) and require students to analyze primary and secondary sources to answer questions and/or write short essays. We don't recommend them for younger students or students who don't like to write. You don't want to kill the joy of learning! Students who want a challenge or need to incorporate writing may wish to tackle some. They are just an extra resource, and you may choose to use a few or none at all. It's up to you. We do NOT have the answers to the DBQs.

You also don't have to do all the art projects or cook all the recipes. Motivated students may wish to set aside time on a Friday evening or weekend to get to some of these projects. They don't necessarily have to be done during "school" time. Students who dislike art projects shouldn't have to do most of the art projects, but you may want to pick at least a couple for the creative arts exposure. We would love for you to share pictures of your student's projects at: https://www.facebook.com/groups/GuestHollow.History/

Videos are an important component of this curriculum. It's NOT expected that you watch all of them, though. There are especially way too many "full-length" videos for you to get to them all. Choose the ones your student is most interested in and/or has time for. Consider watching some of the videos as a family during times outside of "school." The videos embedded in the online text are considered the priority. Everything else is frosting on the cake, so to speak. Some of the extra videos go with the scheduled books. Other videos are just historical in nature as well as fun and interesting!

There are LOTS of terrific history movies I've not scheduled or placed in the unscheduled (optional extras) videos section. Feel free to watch your favorites!

You can easily extend this program into two years. Just take two weeks to do each scheduled week.

Make the program work for you! Don't feel like you are a slave to the schedule. It's here to guide you and help give you lots of options and flexibility.

You may be interested in reading our blog post for more tips and to see what it looks like to use a buffet curriculum in action: What it looks like to use a Guest Hollow schedule in real life

If You Borrow Multi-Week Books from the Library

I've scheduled some of the books over the course of many different weeks. If you are borrowing these books from the library instead of purchasing them and only have them for a short time, go ahead and read them during the borrow period instead of how they are scheduled. You may need to move a few assignments around to do so. Make the schedule work for YOU.

How to Choose from the Unscheduled Book List

Unscheduled books are optional extras. You can use these books as extra credit, to replace one of the scheduled books, or to extend the program over a longer time.

You'll notice in each week of the schedule there is a section that looks like this:

Your Book Choice	Title: Circle the days read: M T W TH F WK Starting page: Ending page:

This is where you keep (or your student keeps) a record of the unscheduled books.

Write the title of the week's book underneath the word "title." Circle the days of the week that the book is read. Record the starting page (at the beginning of the week). Record the ending page (at the end of the week). You may want to give this responsibility to your student, or you may want to have him check in with you with this information, so you can keep him on track.

If you have a reluctant reader, a learning challenged student, or a student who is overwhelmed with his other studies, take this into account when requiring the unscheduled portion of the reading. You may wish to look into audio books, instead, watch more history related movies, or allow him to use the "base" portion of the program with no additional reading.

Using this program with a middle schooler or a less mature high schooler

We always liked to have our children study the same topics, when possible. It made everything easier to accomplish, more interesting (as siblings could discuss what they were learning), and more fun as a family. If you have a middle schooler who wants to use this program, it can be done, BUT you will need to be aware that some of the books may contain content he may not be ready to read due to maturity level/age.

We prefer to study world history at a more leisurely pace for middle school and the younger grades, but we understand that some of you may want to adapt this curriculum for a middle schooler for various reasons. If you use this with a middle schooler, we recommend the following (but of course what you do or don't do is totally up to you):

Books

We recommend you skip the following books unless you do them as read-alouds and edit potentially offensive content out "on the fly" and/or preview them for your middle schooler's maturity, interest level, and reading ability. We have listed possible substitutions for each book below each title.

See our online page for content notes and potential warnings: https://guesthollow.com/whirlwind-world-history-curriculum-book-and-resource-list/ We do NOT list every potential warning or note. Use your discretion.

We do NOT schedule in middle school substitutions. This is a high school level program. You will have to do the adapting. 😉 You can plug these substitutes in when the titles they are replacing are scheduled.

Gilgamesh: A Verse Narrative
Reason for skipping: There is a sexually descriptive passage concerning a prostitute. You may want to do this one as a read-aloud and skip over that section or substitute a book about Gilgamesh written for younger children.

Nefertiti: A Novel
Reason for skipping: This book was written for adults. It's long and has several references to "making love" (no graphic details). Younger students would probably not enjoy it as much as older students, even if you did it as a read-aloud (which would take forever since it's a long book, lol).
Middle school substitutions for this book:
☐ Mara, Daughter of the Nile
☐ Hittite Warrior *This is a Christian book.
☐ God King: A Story in the Days of King Hezekiah * This is a Christian book.
☐ The Golden Goblet
☐ The Golden Bull
☐ Tales of Ancient Egypt
☐ Any novel about ancient Egypt or Mesopotamia will work. Write other titles you are considering here:

Consider the Fork: A History of How We Cook and Eat
Reason for skipping: It's pretty detailed, long, and probably better suited for older students. You could read some of it out loud, though, to a younger student who is very interested in cooking.
Middle school substitution for this book:
☐ Food Fight!: A Mouthwatering History of Who Ate What and Why Through the Ages

Mythos: (Ancient Greek Mythology Book for Adults, Modern Telling of Classical Greek Myths Book) (Stephen Fry's Greek Myths 1)
Reason for skipping: This book was written for adults. It's complex and has quite a bit of adult content. You could possibly adapt it as a read-aloud for a mature middle schooler and skip any sexual references that may not be appropriate. I wouldn't just hand it over, but that's me. You know what's best for your student(s)!
Middle school substitutions for this book:
☐ The Tale of Troy (unabridged)
☐ D'Aulaires Book of Greek Myths
☐ Greek Myths: Meet the heroes, gods, and monsters of ancient Greece
☐ Mythology: Timeless Tales of Gods and Heroes, 75th Anniversary Illustrated Edition
(Any edition of this book will work.)
☐ Any children's book about the Trojan War, the Iliad & Odyssey, or Greek myths

Troy: The Greek Myths Reimagined
Reason for skipping: This book was written for adults. It's fairly complex and has some adult content.
Middle school substitutions for this book:
See the list underneath Mythos: (Ancient Greek Mythology Book for Adults, Modern Telling of Classical Greek Myths Book) (Stephen Fry's Greek Myths 1)

Circe
Reason for skipping: This book was written for adults. It has some adult content.
Middle school substitutions for this book:
See the list underneath Mythos: (Ancient Greek Mythology Book for Adults, Modern Telling of Classical Greek Myths Book) (Stephen Fry's Greek Myths 1)

The Last Kingdom (Saxon Tales Book 1)
Reason for skipping: This book was written for adults. It has some adult content (violence and sexual content that is not appropriate for younger students, in my opinion).
Middle school substitutions for this book:
☐ Raiders from the Sea
☐ Guts & Glory: The Vikings

The Tudors, A Very Peculiar History
Reason for skipping: I think it won't be as engaging to younger students as the Horrible Histories version.
Middle school substitutions for this book:
☐ Terrible Tudors (This is an older version of the Horrible Histories series you can probably still find.)
☐ Terrifying Tudors

The Seventh Sun
Proceed with caution if you don't want your student to read kissing scenes/romance. The main characters are saving sex until marriage. They sleep (as in snooze) together one time after kissing. The publisher says the reading age for this book is 12-17.

Fifth Sun: A New History of the Aztecs
Reason for skipping: This is a very in-depth book written for adults with some mild sexual content. I don't think it would be as engaging to younger students.
Middle school substitution for this book:
☐ History News: The Aztec News

Ten Drugs: How Plants, Powders, and Pills Have Shaped the History of Medicine
Reason for skipping: I don't think it will interest younger students. There is also some adult content, especially in one of the chapters (that is skipped in the schedule, even for the high schoolers).
Middle school substitution for this book:
☐ Exploring the History of Medicine

The Language of Fire: Joan of Arc Reimagined
If you have a student in 6th grade, I'd substitute either the graphic novel or the Magna Charta book. The Language of Fire. Reason: It's kind of a dark retelling of Joan of Arc with some more mature content (age 13+?).
Middle school substitutions for this book:
☐ Messenger: The Legend of Joan of Arc
☐ Any other appropriate Joan of Arc book - Write other titles you are considering here:

☐ The Magna Charta

How to Be a Victorian: A Dawn-to-Dusk Guide to Victorian Life
I recommend you do the assigned sections of this book as a read-aloud. There is some adult content in this book that is not appropriate (in my opinion) for younger students.

A Light in the Darkness: Janusz Korczak, His Orphans, and the Holocaust
Our age rating: 13+, not appropriate for sensitive readers
Reason for skipping: There is potentially upsetting material in this book (graphic violence). Some middle school students may be OK with it. If not, use the Hitler's Youth book, instead.
Middle school substitution for this book:
☐ Hitler Youth: Growing Up in Hitler's Shadow

Between Shades of Gray
Our age rating: 13+
Reason for skipping: Although this is a YA book, it's fairly violent and there is some sexual content (a soldier grabbing a girl's breast, a woman prostituting herself to save her son's life (no graphic details)).
Common Sense Media review of this book: https://www.commonsensemedia.org/book-reviews/between-shades-of-gray
Middle school substitutions for this book:
☐ When My Name Was Keoko
☐ Under the Broken Sky

Salt to the Sea
Reason for skipping: Although this is a YA book, it's fairly violent. The four viewpoints may also be hard to follow for some readers.
Common Sense Media review of this book: https://www.commonsensemedia.org/book-reviews/salt-to-the-sea/user-reviews/adult
Middle school substitutions for this book:
☐ When My Name Was Keoko
☐ Under the Broken Sky

A Time of Fear: America in the Era of Red Scares and Cold War
Reason for skipping: Although this is a YA book, there is a decent amount of violence with descriptions of torture, etc. Some students may be OK with it, but if not, use the Cold War Correspondent book, instead. Reluctant readers will also probably like the Cold War Correspondent book better, as well.
☐ Cold War Correspondent (Nathan Hale's Hazardous Tales #11): A Korean War Tale

Fatherland: A Family History
Reason for skipping: The content is more appropriate for older students.
No substitution.

First They Killed My Father: A Daughter of Cambodia Remembers
Reason for skipping: This is an intense and emotional book with some adult content (an attempted but unsuccessful rape where the character mentions the soldier's penis) and violence.
Middle school substitution for this book:
☐ Red Scarf Girl

Such a Lovely Little War: Saigon 1961-63
Our age rating: 13+
Reason for skipping: I think it's best for more mature students for a variety of reasons.
Middle school substitution for this book:
Cracker!: The Best Dog in Vietnam

Videos
S*ome* of the linked videos may not be appropriate for younger viewers. I have not marked which videos may or may not be appropriate for middle schoolers, so keep that in mind. Preview or be on hand when your younger student watches linked videos. Documentaries from the History Channel and National Geographic are usually safe bets.

Middle school students will likely need more parental involvement and supervision while using this course. Keep in mind workload considerations (as the amount of work and reading was designed for a high schooler). Feel free to edit the schedule to make it work for your younger student.

Please post pictures of your projects and recipes in the Facebook Guest Hollow History group if you can!

Your pictures will be an encouragement and inspiration to others using or considering this curriculum!

We hope you and your student have a wonderful year using our world history curriculum. We are always just an email or post away (via our Facebook groups or the comments sections on our website) if you have any questions!
Please be on hand to closely supervise and assist your students with all recipes and activities. Use this curriculum at your own risk.

Happy homeschooling!

Book and Resource List

This planning sheet is to help you plan your book, video, and resource procurements. For any items you plan on buying new or used, please consider purchasing books through our Amazon link via our support page:

https://guesthollow.com/support/

You only have to click on the link one time right before you make your purchases, and then you can fill your Amazon shopping cart up. We get a small commission for each of your purchases, which help our small business! Every time you shop at Amazon, please visit our link to support our site!

We've ranked items in this list to help you plan your purchases. If you are on a very strict budget, don't have a good library system, or need to limit your student's amount of reading, the ranking system will help you prioritize items.

Items we feel shouldn't be dropped or substituted are marked with a #1.

Other items are ranked as follows:

#2: This item is not absolutely necessary, but highly recommended.
#3: This item is optional but recommended.
#4: This item is optional and less important than the others.

Books featured in the workbook are marked with a star. ★

Books that are used over the course of the year (more or less) vs. just several weeks are marked as being used "multiple weeks."

Reference Books: These books are scheduled, but they are optional. If you are a book addict, you may want to add a few of these to your permanent homeschool book collection.

Book editions: It shouldn't matter much if you want to use a different edition of most books IF they are scheduled by chapter or section title instead of pages. We haven't checked other editions though, so don't hold us to that! 😊

Make sure you check the books and resources page for more information and warnings and/or notes about specific books and videos! We do not list every possible objection.

We were once homeschoolers, and we know what it's like living on a budget. We wrote a blog post to help you SAVE MONEY when using a literature-based curriculum. In the post you'll find handy tips on where to get books, what subscriptions can help, what some libraries offer for free, where our customers go for used books, and how to find books our customers are selling when they are done. Take a look:

How to Save Money When Using a Literature-Based Curriculum

Here are some quick ideas of services or websites to check for savings:

- Hoopla is a service that lets you borrow and enjoy audiobooks, eBooks, comics, movies, TV, magazines, and music from your public library. Many libraries provide free access.
- Open Library (or the Internet Archive) is an online library that provides access to millions of books through controlled digital lending. You can sign up for free and check out digital books just as you would from a real library.
- Everand is a monthly subscription that gives you access to eBooks, audiobooks, and various documents.
- Kindle Unlimited – This is a subscription through Amazon that allows you access to Kindle books for a monthly subscription.
- Thriftbooks - If you click the link and spend $30 after signing up for the Reading Rewards program, you get a free book and so do we! 😉
  You can also get a teacher's discount for Thriftbooks! Homeschoolers qualify!

Art and Project Supplies (Please see the supplies list for additional, more common supplies. This is not a complete list.)

☐ History Unboxed Kit

Choose a kit (or a subscription) from History Unboxed. These are high-quality kits that come with everything you need to make some fun projects and/or explore specific history related items. There is a terrific assortment of kits you can choose from for different cultures in ancient history. We recommend choosing a kit at the beginning of the year to match what your student is interested in or which craft(s)/activities appeal the most.

Note: The 16+ version of the box we received came with a booklet featuring information about more mature themes (like the ancient Egyptian cultural practices related to drinking beer, etc.) You may want to read the difference between the two age options and choose what is appropriate for your student(s).

☐ 1/4-inch square dowels
☐ Air dry clay
☐ Charcoal pencils
☐ Choose a mosaic kit that appeals to your student.
☐ Choose one of the following kits to assemble: trebuchet, catapult, or siege tower.
☐ Craft sticks
☐ Drawing compass
☐ Emmer flour
☐ LEGO Ideas Medieval Blacksmith 21325 Building Kit; Impressive Build-and-Display Model for Adults (Search the official LEGO site, Amazon, E-bay, etc. for this set if you are interested in it. It tends to go out of stock everywhere quickly.) You can also search for other similar sets.
☐ Speedball Block Printing Starter Kit - Any of the Speedball block printing kits will work.
☐ Tempera cakes (not the tempera paint in tubes)
☐ Waterproof Indian ink

Guest Hollow's Whirlwind World History Schedule

Schedule Notes:

WE do NOT provide the answer keys for the printables linked in the schedule. An answer key is provided for the Guest Hollow Whirlwind World History Workbook. It's a PDF file you can find in your Guest Hollow store downloads.

Some links are hosted at the Internet Archive. If the link is supposed to be a PDF, you will need to open it on a desktop computer to see the entire PDF. For some reason, the Internet Archive only displays the first page of PDFs to tablets and phones. Also, the Internet Archive is occasionally down for maintenance. If that's the case, try again later! It always pops back up fairly soon. 😊

Extra Resources and Activities
Activities	Note to parent/teacher: Remember, activities are a buffet to choose from. You don't have to do them all (or any – especially on a busy week when other subjects take precedence)! You can mark the ones you want your student to do (or cross out the ones you want to skip) if you are using the printable version of this schedule. You can choose activities based on your student's needs and interests. Example: A student who likes to cook may want to try the recipes. A student who needs to work on writing may do a writing assignment. Etc. The activities are not meant to overwhelm. They are to give you options. 😊
	Recipe: Ancient Egyptian Ta'amia Recipe: Babylonian-style beef stew Optional Minecraft assignment: Using the Egyptian Mythology Mash-up add-on (or just the base game), research and recreate a scene from ancient Egypt. See this link for details and a grading rubric. Take 1-3 weeks to work on your Minecraft project. Build a ziggurat (paper model) Adult coloring page: Life in Ancient Egypt Coloring Book pages The Royal Game of Ur and historical info – Printable game board and rules Mesopotamia Birth of Civilisation – You can print out this board game for free! Print out the Key Civilizations of Mesopotamia PDF. Create a booklet or an interactive page using the info boxes and maps. Make sure to feature the civilizations in order timewise. Idea: You could fold each of the info boxes into a book (mountain fold), paste the map on the top as a cover, and then paste onto a colored piece of construction paper. Code of Hammurabi – Primary Source and Activity PDF Read the article The Cuisine of Ancient Mesopotamia and use it to create a Mesopotamian restaurant menu or a fragment of an "ancient recipe book." If you like to write stories, write about a Mesopotamian family or person eating or preparing food (use the details in the article to flesh things out). You could also write a non-fiction article of your own based on the info. Design it for a younger audience and try to make it engaging for someone in grades 2-5. Ancient Egypt research project If you don't have access to PowerPoint, you can use Google Slides (which is free) or something similar. Take 2 weeks to work on this project. 1st: Read this article: What is a DBQ? The Document-Based Question Explained 2nd: Read the primary sources in the link below and do the tasks in the document: Life in Ancient Egypt

	Note: I skip the few religious references in this book such as the sections on Jesus, Zoroaster, Buddha, etc. (they are not scheduled in). I am a Christian, but don't like some of the inaccuracies in how things are quoted and/or presented. The other religions are covered more accurately via other portions of the curriculum. I focus on the secular history portions of the book only. I do not consider this a religious or Christian book.

Activities	Art: Felt cake tutorial with Lisa Pay - includes FREE pattern You can also search for another felt cake tutorial and do that, instead. Historical background for this project: Marie Antoinette is attributed as having said "Let them eat cake." While the phrase is commonly attributed to Marie Antoinette, prior to the French Revolution, she did not originate it, and she probably never said it. "Let them eat cake" is the traditional translation of the French phrase "Qu'ils mangent de la brioche", said to have been spoken in the 17th or 18th century by "a great princess" upon being told that the peasants had no bread. The French phrase mentions brioche, a bread enriched with butter and eggs, considered a luxury food. The quotation is taken to reflect either the princess's frivolous disregard for the starving peasants or her poor understanding of their plight. The phrase was supposedly said by Marie Antoinette in 1789, during one of the famines in France during the reign of her husband, King Louis XVI. But it was not attributed to her until half a century later. Although anti-monarchists never cited the anecdote during the French Revolution, it acquired great symbolic importance in subsequent historical accounts when pro-revolutionary commentators employed the phrase to denounce the upper classes. As one biographer of the Queen notes, it was a

Activities cont.	particularly powerful phrase because "the staple food of the French peasantry and the working class was bread, absorbing 50 percent of their income, as opposed to 5 percent on fuel; the whole topic of bread was therefore the result of obsessional national interest." Historical background: On 19 March 1882, construction of the Sagrada Família began under architect Francisco de Paula del Villar. In 1883, when Villar resigned, Gaudí (a Catalan architect) took over as chief architect, transforming the project with his architectural and engineering style, combining Gothic and curvilinear Art Nouveau forms. Gaudí devoted the remainder of his life to the project, and he is buried in the crypt. At the time of his death in 1926, less than a quarter of the project was complete.

Activities Activities -cont.-	Art: "P is for Poppy" project for Remembrance Day Remembrance Day (sometimes known informally as Poppy Day owing to the tradition of the remembrance poppy) is a memorial day observed in Commonwealth member states. Remembrance Day has been observed since the end of the First World War to remember armed forces members who have died in the line of duty. In most countries, Remembrance Day is observed on 11 November to recall the end of First World War hostilities. Hostilities formally ended "at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month" of 1918, in accordance with the armistice signed by representatives of Germany and the Entente between 5:12 and 5:20 that morning. ("At the 11th hour" refers to the passing of the 11th hour, or 11:00 am.) Info from: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Remembrance_Day Recipe: Choose a WW1 recipe from this page.
